

THE HULME GRAMMAR
SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.
RECORD OF THE OLD
GIRLS' ASSOCIATION,
OLDHAM. = = 1925-1926.

THE OLD GIRLS' ASSOCIATION.

CONSTITUTION AND RULES.

The Society shall be called The Old Girls' Association of the Oldham Hulme Grammar School for Girls.

The President shall be the acting Head Mistress of the School, and the Secretary shall be one of the members of the School Staff.

The affairs of the Association shall be conducted by a Committee consisting of the President, the Secretary, the Treasurer, and sixteen representative members, of whom one shall be elected by the Staff, fourteen shall be elected by the Old Girls, and one by the members of Form Upper VI. Of the fourteen Old Girls' representatives two shall retire annually in rotation, but they shall be eligible for re-election, and the election shall take place at the December meeting.

Members who, without good cause assigned, absent themselves from Committee meetings for two consecutive years shall be considered to have resigned, and their places shall be filled up at the December meeting at the end of the second year during which they were absent from the meetings.

Full members (i.e., girls who are able to attend the meetings) shall pay a yearly subscription of 3/-. Country members, who are not eligible to attend meetings, shall pay 2/. Both subscriptions will include the Record.

All subscriptions are due in December, and may be paid at the meeting. No notices will be sent to any member whose subscription is two years in arrears.

There shall be two meetings of the Association each year— at the beginning of December, and on the first Thursday in July, with the exception that in alternate years a picnic on the first Saturday in July shall take the place of the summer meeting at School.

During the last week in November each member shall send to the Secretary at least one warm, useful garment for the poor. Clothing that has been worn, if it is in good condition, is also acceptable.

The Record shall be issued during the Spring Term, and shall be sent to all members who have paid their subscriptions.

OFFICERS FOR 1926.

President—Miss Bailey.

Secretary and Treasurer—Miss Evington.

Committee (in order of election).

M. Kershaw (Mrs. Dunkerley)	G. Thompson

P. Rye (Mrs. Jackson)	L. Johnson (Mrs. Garfitt)
G. Taylor	G. Wilkinson
S. Rothwell	E. Johnson (Mrs. Wood)
B. Holt (Mrs. Watson)	D. Brocklehurst
M. Smith	E. Kelsall

Representative of the Staff—Miss Shaw.

Representative of Form VI.—O. Oates.

There are notable happenings to report during the past year. The Last Record foreshadowed some of them.

The first in order was Founders' Day which was duly instituted on May 19th.

The Service was held in our new hall, Mr. Thorpe presiding. Miss Bailey read the prayers, Kathleen Cliff, as head girl, read the lesson from Ecclesiasticus "Let us now praise famous men," and the hymns "For all the Saints" and "Praise my Soul" were sung. Mr. Thorpe spoke of our benefactors, Mr. Hesketh Booth and Mr. Joseph Travis, through whose foresight and untiring efforts Oldham secured that share of the Hulme Trust Funds to which our school owes its existence.

Miss Burstall, who gave the address, compared life with a great river flowing on to the unknown. She reminded us that we had inherited traditions inspired by two such Head Mistresses as Miss Foxall and Miss Clark. She warned us that there was more to be done at school than merely to prepare to pass examinations. The aims of education should be godliness and good learning, that there should never lack men and women ready to serve God and their fellows. There should be opportunities for fellowship and for social service of which she mentioned three kinds—care of the young, work overseas for which our colonies are calling, and unpaid social work. She instanced as a fine example of such service our revered Governor Dame Sarah Lees.

Some Old Girls came to link up the chain of Past and Present, but not as many as we hope to see. Of course we know that most of them are in the ranks of the workers, but there are, no doubt, some who, with a little scheming, could so arrange their work as to be present. This applies, of course, to all Old Girls, not only to members of the O.G.A.

The aim of Founders' Day is twofold. First, it is to give an opportunity to old and present pupils to meet in an act of thanksgiving to God for advantages enjoyed through the pious benefactions of those who in the past set so great a value on education in its fullest sense that they were inspired to make provision for the young of the future. Also, our Founders' Day is an act of re-consecration for those still at school, that they may devote all their powers of body, mind and heart to use to the full these opportunities within their reach, and to pass on a fine tradition to those who shall come after.

Our Founders' Day Commemoration will be held each year on the anniversary of the opening of the School on May 1st, 1895. This year, as May 1st falls on Saturday, we shall keep it on the morning of Monday, May 3rd, from 11.30 to 12.30. Professor Conway of Manchester University has very kindly consented to give the address. Make the day as widely known to Old Girls as you can, and come if possible.

The next great event was the formal entering into possession of our new buildings. We will leave the description of the ceremony to the Head Girl, who took an active part in it.

We do greatly appreciate our undivided ownership. We enjoy too our new classrooms, with their clean new desks, our own hall, gymnasium, and laboratories, and the more spacious dining room. We have now our library for quiet study and for browsing among books. Its shelves are by no means full, and if they were there is room for more. If any Old Girl chooses to see in this a delicate hint and to act on it (several have already answered the mute appeal of the shelves), she may be sure the librarian will not put obstacles in her way.

Some Old Girls may be disappointed that they did not receive invitations to the opening. Every Old Girl should have had one if it had been possible. Our space was limited, and the few invitations left were sent (as was done in the case of the Old Boys' Association) to those who headed the subscription list to the Building Fund. Most reluctantly was this done, for we have always set our faces against mere money distinctions among Old Girls. All of you are children of one Alma Mater.

We now have our own blazer and very well has it been taken up. Those Old Girls' who have had them tell me that they have been everywhere admired, but when asked the meaning of the design on the pocket they have had to confess ignorance, so in response to several requests we give the explanation of it. This we are able to do through the courtesy of Mr. Tom Watson who had occasion some years ago to trace the armorial bearings of the Hulmes and Asshetons, and who kindly allows us to quote from his article in an old issue of the "Hulmeian."

"The bulk of our endowment comes from the Hulme Trust, which was money left by William Hulme in 1691. The Arms of Hulme, anciently Holme of Hume were, in heraldic terms—'Barry 6 or and azure, on a canton argent, a chaplet gules. Crest, a lion's head erased or, having on the head a chapeau azure turned-up ermine.' This means six bars, gold and blue alternating, forming the field. On a corner of silver, a chaplet or wreath of flowers and leaves in red. Crest, a lion's head erased—term used in heraldry when part of a figure seems to have been torn off, as opposed to coupé, cut off clean—having on the head a blue hat turned-up to shew the ermine lining. The crest was originally a distinguishing emblem worn on the knight's helmet. The origin of the motto: Fide sed cui vide—'Trust, but in whom take care'—has not been traced."

"Trust, but see to Hulme" is the rendering suggested by Mr. Sellers, Vicar of St. Mark's, Hulme, where our Christmas parcels go. The following is an extract from a letter written by him to Miss Bailey last December, shewing how they depend on our help each year:—

"I am now in a position to appreciate all that your goodness and generosity have meant to our parish and the children of the school. It has been a boon of untold worth, and I do not think that I can over-estimate the good that it has done in the past. Times are still hard, and in some ways life is more difficult than it was last year. Unemployment is still rife, and its duration has robbed even the best of the little they had been able to save."

Our thanks are due to those Old Girls who sent so many useful garments last Christmas, and we are sure that this message from Mr. Sellers will encourage all to do their part and continue their efforts. Hulme looks to us now; we must not let these poor folk down.

Badges 5/- can be had on application to Miss Evington.

Blazers will be supplied by Messrs. Cole, 2, Moulton Street, Cross Street, on presentation of an order signed by Miss Evington, and they cannot be had without this order. The prices are about 36/6 and 46/6, according to the quality of flannel chosen.

The annual appeal for news! Please send to the Secretary any items you may have about yourselves or others. The Editor has often to depend for the Notes on chance and hearsay, a method which is not without risk.

Opening of the New School.

On May 21st, 1925, the Earl of Crawford and Balcarres opened the new school extension.

For weeks—or even months—we had looked forward to the time when the new building should be completed, and the incessant hammering which had distracted the school for so long should be ended.

At last the long-expected day arrived. Outwardly the School assumed an aspect of festivity. Flowers brightened the drive, the new hockey field put on its greenest apparel, overhead the Union Jack waved triumphantly in the breeze, while crowds of boys were there to give enthusiastic cheers at the slightest provocation.

Inside the new school were waiting (I can hardly say patiently) behind the door of the new building, the twelve members of Form VI., who were to take part in this event. It had been discovered beforehand that the gilded key would not open the door by its unaided efforts, so it was necessary for someone to be immediately behind the door to supplement them. It fell to the part of K. Jagger and myself to perform this task, the other members of Form VI. being ranged facing one another at equal distances between the door and the stairs. The situation, however, was somewhat complicated for several reasons. For one thing, the door consisted of two parts, one of which generally flew open quite easily, while the other sulkily refused to move until about a minute afterwards. Secondly, the said door opened outwards, and as we had no means of knowing what was happening outside, it was hoped that no one would stand within very near range. Then, too, there was always the risk that the door might open before it was asked to do so, or else remain closed when asked to open.

However, as generally happens, all conjectures proved to be worse than the actual occurrence, and I think I may say that everything passed off quite satisfactorily. Signs of hilarity among the VIth were stoically controlled when we knew that the ceremony had actually begun. There was a deep silence outside. Then we heard a few words spoken by Dame Sarah Lees and Lord Emmott—a pause—then the latch was firmly lifted. The crucial moment had arrived. With an agonised glance at one another Kathleen and I slowly opened the door a few inches. It was grasped firmly from the outside and opened wide. The deed was done. What a relief it was! Nothing dreadful had occurred!

Lord Crawford, Lord Emmott, Dame Sarah Lees, Dr. Phœbe Sheavyn and many others entered, and we followed them upstairs to our new hall where the rest of the school was assembled. Here Lord Crawford spoke a few words to the girls. He said they were making a new start and urged them to avail themselves of every opportunity which school life offered. He spoke of the backward condition of education in the Oldham of fifty years ago, and of the great progress which had been made since that time. He congratulated the Governors and the Staff on the successful conclusion of this enterprise and wished everyone happiness and success.

Three hearty cheers were given by the girls for Lord Crawford and the new school. Then the rest of the ceremony took place in the big hall. Here there was a large assembly of parents, and as there was not sufficient accommodation for all the girls, they were represented by Forms VI. and V.

Lord Emmott referred to the day as one of the most important in the history of the schools. Both the girls' and boys' schools were now able to develop independently, and the new building was a memorial to the patriotism of Oldham people.

Lord Crawford spoke of the schools' splendid equipment, and pointed out that the true aim of education was the direction of the child to be a good citizen. The later years of school life were by far the most valuable. In many cases education was stopped just as it began to be most important, and what had been already acquired was rapidly lost. The youth of the nation should be developed in every way so that it might be of the utmost value to future generations.

Dr. Phœbe Sheavyn then spoke. She said that this was the woman's age. There was now greater importance attached to the education of girls, and with it increased facilities and fuller opportunities for self-development.

MEETINGS IN 1925.

The picnic took place on Saturday, July 4th, and again we repeated a previous excursion, namely to Liverpool. We started from Oldham Central at 8-50, and a few joined us en route. We left Manchester at 9-30 and arrived in Liverpool at 10-20. The weather was kind, and all went well with the party. Most of us visited the Flag Ship of the Atlantic Fleet then in dock, and the Cathedral; others took a trip up the river, and some even went to the County Cricket Match. All met for tea at New Brighton where we were fortunate enough to secure the verandah of a café overlooking the river. After tea we strolled about until it was time to return for the 8-40 train from Liverpool to Manchester. An account of the visits to the Cathedral and the Flag Ship will be found on a later page.

The following met for tea at New Brighton:—

Miss Bailey, Miss Mitchell, Miss Macpherson, Miss Evington, A. Ashton, M., H., and A. Batty, M. Broadbent, H. Butterworth, M. Cartwright, K. Cashman, H. Chadwick, K. Cliff, M. Collins, D. Dearden (Mrs. Green), G. Dearden (Mrs. Wolsteneroff), E. Farrar, S. Fletcher (Mrs. Airey), O. Garfitt, D. Greenall, M. Greenwood, M. Halliwell, E. Hamilton, D. Hargreaves, M. Holden, B. Holt (Mrs. Watson), E. Hutchinson, M. Jackson, D. Jackson, K. Jagger, L. Johnson (Mrs. Garfitt), E. Johnson (Mrs. Wood), H. Johnson, G. Jones, E. Kelsall, M. Kershaw (Mrs. Dunkerley), G. Kidd, B. Leach, L. Lecomber (Mrs. Briggs), D. Lees, M. Letham, M. Lewis, M. Mallandain, E. Martin, E. Megson, Mary Mellodew, D. Millington, I. Mills (Mrs. Horsfall), A. Mills, F. Nutter, A. Owen, (Mrs. Colquitt), V. Phillips, B. Potter (Mrs. Eastwood), H. Shuttleworth, G. Smith (Mrs. Williams), N. Snape, S. Stock, D. Stott, C. Taylor, G. Taylor, M. Tetlow, G. and M. Thompson, A. Turner, N. Walton, A. Watson (Mrs. Lees), D. Wild, N. Wild, M. and P. Wilde, M. Whitehead, G. Wilkinson, A. Winterbottom, D. Wrigley, K. Wynne, E. York.

The winter meeting took place on Thursday, December 3rd. The chief entertainment was a play "Hamilton 2," the characters of Mr., Mrs., Miss and Freddy Hamilton being taken by J. Rye, M. Smith, D. Wrigley and E. Kelsall respectively, with N. Walton as Miss H's fiancé, S. Rothwell as the Professor and M. Collins as the maid. The producer was O. Garfitt. "Hamilton 2" was a strange case of dual personality, in which Mr. Hamilton was changed, on hearing the loud report of a sudden explosion, from a mischievous school boy into a model student. Through the same cause he became in turn the wild undergraduate, the crank who ran anti-everything societies and the kindly, indulgent father. Fortunately for his family, the last phase was rendered permanent by the intervention of the Professor, so all ended happily.

After supper we discussed the spending of the Old Girls' Contribution to the Building Fund, which the Treasurer, N. Macpherson, told us was about £320. It was finally decided that the school be fitted with a system of synchronised clocks and automatic bells at a cost of about £150 (this is to be done during the Easter holidays), that £100 be handed to the Governors towards the reduction of the debt, and for this the Old Girls adopt the music room. They also agreed to defray the expenses of the new stage fittings, with curtains and electric lighting, and this has been done at a cost of £50. These fittings were used first by the Old Girls for "Hamilton 2," and again a few days later for the League of Pity Bazaar entertainment. There will be a small surplus which will be used to furnish the music room and to tidy up the play ground at the College Road end of the School.

The election of new committee members resulted in the choice of E. Kelsall and D. Brocklehurst. During the evening the girls wandered round the new buildings, learning to make themselves at home after our removal to the new house.

The following signed the visitor's book (we think that some must have forgotten to sign for we counted more heads at supper than names in the book!):—

Miss Bailey, Miss Boore, Miss Elliott, Miss Evington, Miss Roberts, Miss Shaw, Miss Smith, Miss Stott, A. Ashton, M. Bagot (Mrs Buckley), E. Bentley, E. Bright, W. Broadbent, D. Brocklehurst, S. Brooks, M. Brown (Mrs. Mills), A. and B. Buckley, M. Chadderton, H. Chadwick, M. Collins, M. and A. Coop, D. Corns, G. Dearden (Mrs. Wolstencroft), E. Dunkerley, E. Farrar, A. Fenton, O. Garfitt, E. Garside, D. and G., Greenall, M., Jagger.

E. Jessop, L. Johnson (Mrs. Garfitt), E. Johnson (Mrs. Wood), M. Johnson, G. Jones, M. Hallsworth, D. Hardwick, M. Holden, H. Holden, B. Holt (Mrs. Watson), E. Kelsall, M. Kershaw (Mrs. Dunkerley), S. Kirby, P. Lansdell (Mrs. Leeson), M. Lawton, E. Lawton, S. Laycock, B. Leach, D. Lees, M. Letham, M. Lewis, A. Lowe, N. Macpherson, M. Mallandain, B. Martland, E. and H. Megson, I. Mills (Mrs. Horsfall), A. Neild, D. Newby, F. Nutter, A. Owen (Mrs. Colquitt), B. Potter (Mrs. Eastwood), B. Ramsden, S. Rothwell, J. Rye, P. Rye (Mrs. Jackson), Mally Schofield (Mrs. Sampson), K. and I. Shimeld, H. Shuttleworth, M. Simpson, Ethel Smith (Mrs. Holt), M. Smith, H. Stott, A. Taylor, C. Taylor, M. Tetlow, G. and M. Thompson, E. Thompson, N. Walton, H. Ward, A. Watson (Mrs. Lees), M. Weston, H. Whittaker (Mrs. Hilton), D. and M. Wild, N. Wild, G. Wilkinson, A. Winterbottom, M. Wood (Mrs. Gillespie), Alice Wrigley, D. Wrigley, K. Wynne.

THE VISIT TO THE FLEET.

On a sunny July day, a merry party set out for Liverpool. Some of us had set our hearts on being shown over one of the great floating hotels, but the tide unkindly chose to be high in the morning, and the liners had either left early or arrived in the evening. As a consolation for our disappointment, fate kindly sent part of the fleet to Liverpool.

So, on arriving, we made our way down to the docks, and there began a perilous, and a seemingly never-ending journey amongst the dock trains in search of our particular dock.

There we found H.M.S. Centaur the Flagship of the Atlantic Fleet, but we were told it was closed to all except the police and their friends that morning. However with the help of a letter we possessed from the friend who had been trying to arrange the liner visit, we were allowed on board, and had the advantage of having the ship almost to ourselves.

A bevy of Non-Commissioned Officers—and I believe at least one real Officer—and men came to act as willing guides to initiate us in the mysteries of a man-of-war. They showed us the wonderful "Great Guns" fired so easily, almost by pressing a button, and yet fitted with a wonderful timing apparatus that allowed an officer on the bridge to give the order, and each of the guns to be fired at precisely the same second, and to precisely the same spot, with measured, deadly accuracy.

They showed us also the way the gun swung round to face any direction, and the three methods of firing in order that there might be no risk of failure to fire, and many other interesting things.

Having exhausted the war aspect of the ship, they took us below deck, and showed us the more human aspect of that big grey vessel.

We saw the officers' cabins, offices and bedrooms, dainty eiderdowns on many of the beds, artistic dressing-gowns hanging up, and photographs dotted about, giving them anything but a war-like appearance.

The men's beds were not so attractive, consisting merely of hammocks, which were by day neatly piled up out of the way.

We saw also the chef in the kitchen preparing the dinner, and incidently, a huge very appetising-looking pie, and pails of potatoes and peas.

We were shown the "sick bay," with one poor solitary patient in bed, and a fellow sailor sitting by him, the dining rooms, the wonderful engines in the depths of the ship, and finally the water-tight passages—which one felt to be very nearly airtight—in case of accident.

I suppose it would fill a book to describe accurately all we saw, and we all felt we had spent a most interesting and instructive morning.

Our guides would not accept any gifts, but said they were delighted to show us round.

I think they were thoroughly proud, and justly so, of their wonderful flagship, and I think we too felt proud as we left the sleek grey ships lying so still and solidly in the waters—proud of the guardians of our coasts—The British Navy.

LIVERPOOL CATHEDRAL.

We came up from the centre of the city and saw the beautiful outline of the red sandstone Cathedral, simple and strong. After looking across from the N.E. at the choir with its great east window and the Lady Chapel and Chapter House below, we went in at the unfinished western end and stood in the central space and saw a transept on either side and the choir in front. The dim red walls and the great piers rose to the vaulted roof far above, and the simplicity of decoration increased the sense of height and strength.

The choir, wonderful in height and colouring, has carved oak stalls and a bishop's throne, and the great sandstone reredos with its gilding, and sculptured panels of events in the life of our Lord is part of the east wall. High up on either side are two large windows, each with a different main colour, and at the end is the great east window representing the Te Deum. Beyond the choir at the S.E. corner is the Lady Chapel, which though really large, seems small in comparison with the scale of the rest of the building. It is quite different from the main part of the cathedral in its rich decoration, and is very beautiful.

Not the least interesting part of our visit was our expedition to the depths below, where we saw the wonderful apparatus for heating and lighting the building, and for working the huge organ, and the wireless receiving set to regulate the broadcasting of the voice of the clergy in the cathedral above.

As we crossed the river we saw the Cathedral on its hill and wondered what the magnificent effect would be when it was complete with two more transepts and the nave, and the great central tower.

MISS MITCHELL'S CONCERT.

On February 9th, Miss Mitchell and Miss Winifred with two friends, Miss Hall (contralto) and Mr. Richardson ('cello), gave a most enjoyable and successful concert. The hall was well filled, and the proceeds in full—£22—were handed to the Governors towards the reduction of the debt on the school, as Miss Mitchell herself defrayed all the expenses incurred. We owe her warm thanks for having provided for us a musical treat, and for all the time and trouble expended to make the concert such a success. This was in a sense Miss Mitchell's farewell gift to the school, for most of you know now that she is to retire in July. We shall miss her greatly. The school will seem strange without her for she has been part of it so long, never sparing herself, as those of us know who are best able to appreciate the hard work she has done with scarcely a break for thirty years.

THE SOIRÉE.

On December 4th, the Secretary received a letter from the President of the Old Boys' Association asking us to combine with them in arranging a joint soirée. This led to the appointment of a committee of seven to work with the same number from the Old Boys' Council. We chose L. Garfitt, B. Watson, M. Dunkerley, D. Brocklehurst, S. Rothwell, M. Smith, O. Garfitt, and at the first combined meeting on February 1st, it was decided to hold a soirée on March 12th, invitations for which were sent out to all members. It took place as arranged. The Head Mistress and the Head Master gave permission for the two schools to be used, and the whole building was thrown open to visitors. The evening was voted a great success. Over four hundred invitations were accepted. Miss Bailey and Mr. Fletcher as Presidents of the two Associations and Mr. Pickford received the guests. There was a concert—the singers being Edith Jessop, Freda Nutter, Mr. Norman Booth and Mr. H. Gilmour, entertainer, and Mr. Hardie at the piano. There were also experiments by Dr. Potter and Mr. Albery in the boys' laboratories, and in the girls' an electrified fountain; the valuable collection of Oldham flora made by the late Mr. Wood, and recently presented to us by Mrs. Wood, was also exhibited. There was to have been a conjuring entertainment, but the conjuror failed to produce himself—nor was he greatly missed. There was dancing in the girls' hall from 9 to 10 p.m., and in the large hall from 11 to 1. Refreshments were served in the old gymnasium and dining room. The Mayor and Mayoress (Alderman and Mrs. Pollard) were present. All the guests seemed to enjoy themselves greatly, and if the experiment is as successful financially as it was socially we may look to see it repeated at some future date.

HOCKEY.

Two matches have been played against the present girls, one on February 24th and the other on March 10th, both resulting in a victory for the Old Girls.

They were two very enjoyable games, being evenly contested; the second was perhaps, the better and faster match of the two.

NOTES.

Miss Semmens has been awarded the degree of Ph.D. by the University of London for her research work on the effects of polarised light on plants.

Miss Colman has given up teaching and is in London training for secretarial work.

Miss M. Richards is teaching at Streatham High School.

Miss Whitaker has left Worcester, and is with Mrs. Freston (Mlle. Boussier).

Miss Pym and Miss Godden went last year, to New Zealand, probably for two years. We heard that they reached Sydney last December.

Miss Stanton is now at Thoresby High School, Leeds.

Miss Elliott is teaching at the G.P.D.S. School, Sheffield.

Eugina Cooper has published a book on the findings of her research.

Esther Stott (Mrs. Wharton) was presented at Court in May, 1925.

May Johnson passed in June, 1925, the Final M.B., Ch.B. examination with distinction in Forensic Medicine. She was placed first in the list of women students and was one of the five students who went through the whole course without failing in any examination. From August, 1925, to January, 1926, she was clinical assistant in the surgical out-patients' department at the Manchester Royal Infirmary.

Kathleen McGowan is studying medicine at Manchester University.

Margaret Weston gained a Second Class in the Final Honours School of English Language and Literature at Oxford, June, 1925. She is now on the staff of the Grammar School.

Helen Whittaker passed First Class in the Natural Science Tripos, Cambridge, June, 1925. She has been granted half the Arthur Hugh Clough Scholarship and is still at Cambridge doing research work.

Edith Gaunt and Dorothy Lord have passed the London Final B.A. Examination with Second Class Honours. Edith is at the Cambridge Training College, and Dorothy is at Oxford working for the Education Diploma.

Kathleen Cliff won the Bertha Johnson Scholarship for Home Students at Oxford, and went up last October.

Kathleen Jagger has won the Amelia Gurney Open Classical Scholarship and is now at Girton. She also won and is the first to hold the Mary Alice Clegg Scholarship, awarded on the results of the Higher Certificate Examination, and open to any Oldham boy or girl. She also gained a State Scholarship for success in the same examination, but resigned it on receiving the others. And she is an honorary Scholar of the School.

Alice Ainsworth has passed her final examination at Trinity College, Brighton, and is teaching at Eustace Street School, Chadderton.

Hilda Stott was Kindergarten Mistress of the Nursery Class at the Manley Park School, Whalley Range, and is now at Clayton Council School.

Marjorie Gaunt is Domestic Economy Mistress at Hoyland, near Sheffield.

Helen Coop obtained, last July, the Higher Froebel Certificate at the Bedford Kindergarten Training College, and is now teaching at Palmerston House School, Ross-on-Wye.

Alice Duncan is teaching at St. John's School, Crossens, Southport; Dorothy Lees at Derker Council School; Eunice Dunkerley at Coldhurst, and Alice Wrigley at Clarksfield Infant School.

Frances Smith is teaching singing and musical appreciation at Stretford High School, and at Vernon House School, Higher Broughton.

Annie Tinker (Mrs. Buckley) is teaching at Greenfield.

Agnes Ormrod is teaching at a private School at Rhyl. In September she is to begin a two years' course at the School of Domestic Economy, Manchester.
